President Obama has done most of what he said he would do if elected in his first term; imagine what he could have done by now if progressives had supported him and not given him a Congress that doesn't look at him as if he's the demon seed.

Not only is he NOT a "disappointment," he's pretty much the opposite. And no, I don't just say that because he took out Osama bin Laden, helped Libya determine their own destiny for the first time in a while, and because he seems able to handle international incidents without starting a new war. This e-book "Updated and Expanded List of 212 of President Obama Accomplishments" is a short list of accomplishments of a man who cares more about his country and the people than most past Presidents. This is why he was elected for a second term by an overwhelming majority of people who want to see America move forward with this man as their leader.

President Barack Obama is one who works so Americans can have good jobs, food, clean drinking water, health care, shelter and are safe from terrorists. President Obama does what is in his heart and what's best for the American's people. His tireless efforts confirm that in this short list of accomplishments.

President Obama recognizes that change doesn't come immediately but change will come if the right programs and the right people are in place. When we realize, that change is not a one day thing or one term Presidency.

We all know very well his predecessor led the country to where it is, so don't expect President Obama to do miracles overnight. It's easy to destroy than to build, we must give him time.

However, these last four years are a strong indication of what we can expect in his second term then the future of this nation and the world looks much brighter and promising with hope.
