Jean-Roch Coignet

Captain Coignet's (1776-1865) notebooks are possibly the most legendary account of the services of a young conscripts adventures under Napoleon's consulate and empire. Having distinguished himself at the battle of Montebello, and awarded an arme d'honneur, he is inducted in the famed Grenadiers of the Guard (having avoided the height restriction with the connivance of the normally strict Davout and two packs of playing cards). Despite being illiterate until late into his adult life, due to his rough childhood recounted in the first notebook, many famous personalities of the Empire are sketched in his honest style and his own trials and tribulations are recounted without any embellishment. This edition benefits from the preface by Lorédan Larchey (1831-1902) author of numerous French historical work.
